CFM CERTIFICATION

The most respected global credential in facility management

The Certified Facility Manager (CFM) credential sets the industry standard for ensuring the knowledge and abilities of practicing facility managers.

More than ever, recognizing competency and high performance-establishing benchmarks, defining competence and setting performance standards - is vital to the global economy. Never before have the public, employers and government agencies relied as much on certification organizations as they do today. Professional associations are now taking a lead role in developing these credentialing programs, and IFMA's CFM program was the first in facility management.

IFMA's certification process is designed to assess competency in the field through work experience, education and the ability to pass a comprehensive exam. Since the program began in 1992, more than 3,100 facility managers from 32 countries have achieved this prestigious recognition.

COMPETENCY-BASED

The CFM Exam is competency-based, testing what a person can do compared to standards that define the practice of facility management. One cannot take a course or a simple knowledge-based exam to earn the credential. IFMA's competency-based program is at a higher level than a knowledge-based program, reflecting the growing importance of facility management in the international business world.

RECOGNIZED GLOBALLY

In addition, the CFM is the only global facility management certification available. Every country that chooses to localize the exam must maintain a certain percentage of global questions on their exam; however, they also include a number of regional/local questions, allowing facility managers to practice in their own countries and have the skills and knowledge to practice globally as well. There are currently five different exams available: United States, Canada, European Business English, Dutch and German, with localizations for other countries under way.

Goals of IFMA's certification program:

GOAL 1

Assure professional excellence

GOAL 2

Establish standards for global professional practice

GOAL 3

Promote the added value of the profession

GOAL 4

Influence the future direction of the profession

IFMA'S CFM EXAM REVIEW COURSE

This is the definitive course of preparation for IFMA's Certified Facility Manager Examination. The course is designed to assist facility professionals seeking certification with preparation for the competency-based examination.

The instructors for the course are Certified Facility Managers who have many years of facility management experience and can inspire participants' confidence in their ability to successfully complete the examination, earning the distinction and privilege of being a CFM.

The course is organized around the following nine areas of facility management competency: Leadership and Management, Planning and Project Management, Communication, Operations and Maintenance, Finance Quality Assessment and Innovation, Human and Environmental Factors, Real Estate, and Technology.
